Adelaide Review

Australasian Drama Studies: Copyright on all articles appearing in Australasian Drama Studies rests with the author. Apart from any fair dealing for the purposes of study, research, criticism or review as permitted under the Copyright Act, no part of Australasian Drama Studies may be reproduced by any process without permission of the editors and the contributing author. Authors should note that online full text retrieval of Australasian Drama Studies articles is available from the Australian Public Affairs Full Text Service (AP AIS): a service used by most university libraries in Australia and New Zealand. The editors welcome relevant visual images to accompany written texts. Please submit images as jpeg or preferably tiff files or black and white photographs. Please ensure that the photographer/designer is duly acknowledged and that they understand the copyright arrangements (including the image's online availability through AP AIS). The photographer's name as well as any persons appearing in the image should be clearly marked on the back of the photograph or in an email in the case of jpeg or tiff attachment.

Oxford University Press:

- Pre-print: author can archive pre-print (ie pre-refereeing)
Post-print: subject to Restrictions below, author can archive post-print (ie final draft post-refereeing)
Restrictions: • 12 month embargo on science, technology, medicine articles
• 24 month embargo on arts and humanities articles
Conditions: • Published source must be acknowledged
• Must link to publisher version
• Set phrase to accompany archived copy (see policy)
Policy: • Authors may upload their accepted manuscript PDF ("a post-print*") to institutional and/or centrally organized repositories (including PubMed Central), but must stipulate that public availability be delayed until 12 months after first online publication in the journal.
• When uploading an accepted manuscript to a repository, authors should include a credit line (see last bullet point below) and a link to the final published version of the article. This will guarantee that the definitive version is readily available to those accessing your article from public repositories, and means that your article is more likely to be cited correctly.
• Authors should include the following credit line when depositing their accepted manuscripts.

This is a pre-copy-editing, author-produced PDF of an article accepted for publication in [insert journal title] following peer review. The definitive publisher-authenticated version [insert complete citation information here] is available online at: xxxxxxxx [insert URL that the author will receive upon publication here].

Projections: The Journal for Movies and Mind (Berghahn journal):

- Publisher: Berghahn Journals
Pre-print: archiving status unclear
Post-print: subject to Restrictions below, author can archive post-print (ie final draft post-refereeing)
Restrictions: • See individual journals
Conditions: • Authors final version only
• On author or institutional website or institutional repository or any non-commercial subject sites
• Set statement to accompany article: "This is a post-peer-review, pre-copyedited version of an article published in [insert journal title]. The definitive publisher-authenticated version [insert complete citation information here] is available online at: [insert URL here]".

Routledge (Taylor & Francis Group publications):

Taylor & Francis Group

- Pre-print: author can archive pre-print (ie pre-refereeing)
Post-print: subject to Restrictions below, author can archive post-print (ie final draft post-refereeing)
Restrictions: • 12 month embargo for STM Journals
• 18 month embargo for SSH journals
Conditions: • Some individual journals may have policies prohibiting pre-print archiving
• Publisher's version/PDF cannot be used
• On a non-profit server
• Published source must be acknowledged
• Must link to publisher version
Policy: 1. Always providing that the editorial policy of the journal concerned allows this within its policies on prior publication, you are able to post a pre-print version of the Article on Internet websites including your home page, institutional website or subject pre-print server so long as a link is made on publication to the final published version of scholarly record on the journal's web page.

2. You are able to post, after a 12-month embargo (STM) or 18-month embargo (SSH), your revised text version of the final article after editing and peer review on your home page, institutional website or subject repository so long as a single link is made to the fully reference-linked version of scholarly record on the journal's web page. For the avoidance of doubt, 'your version' is the author version and not the publisher-created PDF, HTML or XML version posted as the definitive, final version of scientific record.

- Authors should include the following credit line when depositing their accepted manuscripts.
