1. CONFERENCE

Hume and the Enlightenment:
A short conference

Location

HETZEL LECTURE THEATRE, INSTITUTE BUILDING,
(Cnr Kintore Ave & North Tce)
ADELAIDE, SOUTH AUSTRALIA

Hume continues to have a profound influence on philosophical thought and ideas. Yet Hume's influence extends well beyond philosophy to a range of others disciplines, including politics, history, literature and economics. While Hume is now widely regarded as the most significant of British philosophers, he was in his day counted a significant essayist and historian. Further, the influences of Hume's empiricism stretch from encouraging the exploration of sentiment in literature to being a precursor to the new discipline of cognitive science. Taking recent work on Hume – including Hume's Enlightenment Tract – as a starting point, this conference aims to examine Hume's thought and influence not just on philosophy but on a range of other disciplines.

"Hume and the Enlightenment" is convened by Dr Craig Taylor, of the Philosophy Department, Flinders University.
